MAYSVILLE, KY., TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 1898.

NUMBER 65.

PASSED BY THE HOUSE

Was the Military Academy Appropriation Bill

WITH BUT ONE AMENDMENT

Bill to Limit the Period For the Refunding of Certificates of Deposit of 1879 to Dec. 31, 1899, Was Also Passed.

Washington, Feb. 8.—The house passed the Military academy appropriation bill with only one unimportant amendment. The debate on the measure was desultory and touched a variety of political topics. As passed the bill carried $453,540, being $26,032 less than the amount carried by the current law.

The bill to limit the period for the refunding of the certificates of deposit of 1879 to Dec. 31, 1899, was passed. The house will take up the Aldrich-Plowman contested election case.

In the Senate.

Washington, Feb. 8.—An amendment of more than ordinary importance and significance at this time was proposed in the senate by Mr. Morgan of Alabama to the resolution offered a few days ago by Mr. White of California.

Mr. White's resolution declared that it was the right of the people of Hawaii to maintain their own form of government and the United States ought in no wise to interfere with it. Mr. Morgan's amendment provides distinctly for the annexation of the Hawaiian Islands, declaring that the present government has to make such cession to this country.

The presentation of a memorial prepared by the late Admiral Worden elicited some interest in the statement regarding the historic fight in Hampton roads between the Monitor and the Merrimac.

The senate was in executive session during the remainder of the afternoon.

Revolution in Nicaragua.

Washington, Feb. 8.—It appears from a more careful scrutiny of the news cable to the state department from San Jose, Costa Rica, last Saturday, that a revolution is in progress in Nicaragua, and not in Costa Rica, as was at first understood. The advice came from United States Minister Merry, who is now at his post in Costa Rica, where he has been received without difficulty, notwithstanding his rejection by Nicaragua. The navy is unusually well prepared to protect American interests in Nicaragua, as well as the canal commission, having a warship on each coast of the country, or near by.

Alger Takes a Ride.

Washington, Feb. 8.—Secretary Alger's progress toward recovery has been so pronounced during the past few days that his physician felt warranted in allowing him to take a short carriage ride.

The Government's Representative.

Washington, Feb. 8.—Assistant Secretary Cridler was selected to represent the state department in attendance upon the funeral at Urbana, O., of the late Joe Smith.

New Bank Authorized.

Washington, Feb. 8.—The American National bank of Chicago has been authorized to begin business; capital, $1,000,000.

There Are No Vested Rights.

Trenton, Feb. 8.—Judge Andrew Kirkpatrick rendered a decision in the United States court dissolving the temporary injunction granted by himself some time ago restraining Internal Revenue Collector Moffett of Camden from removing three Democratic deputies. Judge Kirkpatrick, in his decision, says there is nothing in the civil service act prohibiting the removal of men except a prohibition of a removal of men for refusing to contribute for campaign purposes. He holds that there are no vested rights in public office, and an equity court is without jurisdiction to prevent the removal of persons in the classified service.

To Test the Law.

New York, Feb. 8.—Isaac Newman has been appointed deputy collector of internal revenue by Collector Ferdinand Eldman of the Third collection district. The appointment was made for the purpose of testing the federal civil service regulations as applied to positions of this kind. It has been held that no deputy in the internal revenue and customs service could be appointed outside of the eligible list of the civil service.

Imports and Exports.

London, Feb. 8.—The monthly board of trade returns show an increase of $140,800 in the imports and a decrease of $554,800 in the exports.

STANDARD OIL TRUST

Is Heard of by the Legislative Investigating Committee.

Cleveland, Feb. 8.—The legislative trust investigating committee examined a number of witnesses here, but little of value was learned except as regards the oil trust.

John Teagle of the oil refining firm of Schofield, Shurmer & Teagle, which for years has been fighting the Standard Oil company, proved an interesting witness. He declared that the Standard was constantly and systematically attempting to injure his firm.

He said the Standard agents had endeavored to ascertain where the salesmen of his firm obtained orders for oil. The agents would go to the purchasers and offer to cut the price if the oil was bought of the Standard, and threaten if this was not done to sell to every other dealer in the same towns so cheaply that the dealers refusing could not compete with them.

Mr. Teagle showed letters from customers in support of these statements. He then briefly told of the suit which his firm won against the Lake Shore railroad in 1884 for discriminating in favor of the Standard in freight rates against his firm.

Mr. Teagle, who was under oath, then testified that the Standard had attempted, through a middleman, to bribe the bookkeeper of his firm. The bookkeeper, he stated, was offered $50 per month to give constant information regarding the shipments, prices and cost of manufacturing of Schofield, Schermer & Teagle.

The bookkeeper asked for time in which to consider the matter and took $25 which the agent tendered as payment in advance, and then laid the whole transaction before his employers.

The witness said that he and his partner, Mr. Schofield, took the $25, and, going to the office of F. B. Squire, the secretary of the Ohio corporation of the Standard Oil trust, laid the money on his desk and told him that they always stood ready to give him any information which it was proper for him to know about the affairs of their firm.

Still under oath, Mr. Teagle declared that Mr. Squire acknowledged to them that he had caused the agent to be sent to see the bookkeeper. The witness testified that the Standard has about 85 per cent of the oil stock in the country.

Secretary F. B. Squire was called as a witness and he denied the statement of Mr. Teagle with respect to the attempt to bribe the bookkeeper.

Killed Her Mother-in-Law.

Brooklyn, Feb. 8.—The wife of William W. Place, an insurance adjuster in the employ of the London Fire Insurance company, killed her mother-in-law, Mrs. Ida Place, by burning her face and body with acids, attacked her husband with a hatchet and cut him so badly about the head that he may die, and then locked herself in a room and turned on two gas jets. When found by an ambulance surgeon she was unconscious, but it is believed she will recover.

The Creede Will Case.

Los Angeles, Feb. 8.—In the trial of the Creede will case the opposition to the will continued to introduce testimony to show that the will is a forgery. Several witnesses testified that Creede's brother-in-law, Pfeiffer, had said after Creede's death that there was no will. By Mrs. Creede it was attempted to be shown that Creede knew that two signatures were necessary to the document, but the court would not admit the testimony.

Steel Plant Sold.

West Superior, Wis., Feb. 8.—The West Superior iron and steel plant was sold to George Welwood Murray of New York, who bid the property in for the reorganization company, paying $60,000. The bonds held by the Central Trust company amounted to $1,630,000. The property, which is idle, will be turned over to the Wisconsin Steel company, which may operate it after the legal clouds are cleared away. The works cost nearly $2,000,000.

Insurance Commissioner Restrained.

San Francisco, Feb. 8.—In the United States circuit court Judge Morrow granted a second restraining order in the case of the foreign insurance companies doing business in San Francisco against Andrew G. Clunle, insurance commissioner. The second order was made necessary by the filing of a supplemental bill, and does not differ in terms or effect from the restraining order previously granted.

Cordage Works Burned.

Dayton, O., Feb. 8.—The works of the Bradley Twine and Cordage company were almost totally destroyed by fire, with a loss of $75,000. Cause unknown.

Special Rates Approved.

New York, Feb. 8.—The Joint Traffic association has approved special rates for the Mardi Gras celebrations at New Orleans and Mobile on Feb. 21.

QUEEN VIC'S SPEECH.

ALSO WITH OTHER THINGS.

Hope Is Expressed That the International Sugar Conference Will Have Satisfactory Results to Great Britain.

Referring to China, the queen spoke favorably of the pacific relations between the powers, and then pointed out the satisfaction experienced at the conclusion of the treaty of peace between Greece and Turkey.

Dealing with India, complimentary allusions were made to the valor and loyalty of the British Indian troops.

There was a lengthy reference to the West Indies and the government's intentions as outlined by the secretary of state for the colonies, Mr. Chamberlain, and the speech then expressed the hope that the international sugar conference will have satisfactory results.

The first place in the estimates is devoted to the army needs, and the chief bills promised will be local government for Ireland, and the London municipalities bill, providing, as announced by the Marquis of Salisbury, for the modification of the London county council in the direction of decentralization.

Famous Tunnel Builder Insane.

San Francisco, Feb. 8.—Adolph Sutro, ex-mayor of San Francisco, builder of the famous Sutro tunnel, has been adjudged mentally incompetent by Superior Judge Belcher. His daughter, Dr. Emma Sutro-Merritt, who has been in constant professional attendance on her father for many months past, has been appointed guardian of his person and estate. Mr. Sutro is over 80 years old and the loss of his mental faculties is attributed to the weight of years, combined with the effects of two strokes of apoplexy which he has suffered in the past two months.

Holliness Association.

New Albany, Ind., Feb. 8.—The Ohio Valley Holliness association has decided to issue 1,000 shares to be sold at $10 each. The money will be used in improving the campgrounds on Silver Heights, back of this city, and to liquidate an indebtedness now standing against the association. The association will hold a three-days' camp-meeting next summer, which will be followed by a 10-days' meeting of the National Holliness association. The dates for the meetings have not yet been fixed.

Zola on Trial.

Paris, Feb. 8.—The trial of M. Emile Zola, who is being prosecuted by the government as a result of the letter which he wrote last December to The Aurore reflecting upon high officials connected with the Dreyfus case, opened in the assize court of the Seine. Keen public interest was manifested in the case. Hundreds of people surrounded the court anxious to gain admission. The police measures taken to insure order were most rigorous.

Movement of Naval Vessels.

Key West, Feb. 8.—There is a mysterious movement of naval vessels here. The torpedo flotilla, which left here about two weeks ago for cities on the gulf coast, has suddenly appeared again. The Cushing and the Ericson are now here and the Dupont will arrive soon from Mobile. The fleet supply boat was busy all last week taking large quantities of stores from the station for the fleet.

Many Turned Away.

Boston, Feb. 8.—A small army of unemployed men occupied the streets leading to the statehouse all night in order that they might be on hand when the doors opened, ready to register for civil service examinations in the mechanical department. The men were admitted in order and the 500 names, which were all that could be taken, were soon recorded. More than 1,000 were turned away.

New Albany, Ind., Feb. 8.—The residence and stable of William Lemmon, proprietor of the Corydon stage line, were destroyed by fire at Corydon. The contents were burned, including 15 head of horses and 10 wagons. Loss, $6,000; insurance, $500. Origin unknown.

Stabbed by a Hired Hand.

Terre Haute, Ind., Feb. 8.—William Farmer, a farmer of Prairieton, this county, was stabbed by James Hughes, a farm hand, in a dispute over wages, and will die. Hughes was arrested.

KNOCKED HIM DOWN.

Exciting Incident With Reference to the Grable Affair.

St. Louis, Feb. 8.—Thomas L. Fauntleroy of the legal firm of McDonald & Fauntleroy called at the Planters' hotel to see Francis C. Grable concerning two checks, aggregating $2,000, which Grable had cashed in Chicago last month by W. J. Littlejohn of the North British and Mercantile Insurance company. The checks were returned marked "worthless," and Mr. Fauntleroy was given the matter to settle. Grable refused to see him, but sent down his own private secretary. The young man and Mr. Fauntleroy had words, which resulted in the lawyer's knocking Grable's secretary down.

His Arm Was Bad.

Osgood, Ind., Feb. 8.—George Dammeier, 34, while intoxicated, attempted to commit suicide. He shot at his head, but missed, and the ball hit his left arm. His brother Henry was recently found nearly frozen to death on the Greensburg road. George gave no reason for the act, but it is generally supposed that it was on account of the terrible condition of his brother, who, if he lives, will have to have his arms and legs amputated, as they are so badly frozen.

Cut in Price of Oil.

Indianapolis, Feb. 8.—The Standard Oil company has begun a war against the independent companies operating in this city. The Standard lowered the price of refined oil from 5 and 6 cents a gallon to 4 and 5 cents a gallon. The independent companies are preparing for battle and promptly met the cut. The Standard Oil company has rather overlooked the independent companies in this city heretofore.

Fell in Love in Jail.

Covington, Ind., Feb. 8.—Maggie Keller, the acquitted defendant in the Clara Shanks murder case, has sued prominent citizens of Fountain and Parke counties for $50,000 damages. She alleges impaired health and ruined prospects, but she has married James Labue, which impairs her claim. The troth was plighted while both were in prison, where they first met.

A Peculiar Entry.

Chesterfield, Ind., Feb. 8.—A peculiar entry of dismissal of a criminal case appears on a justice's docket in this township. The defendant, who was charged with assault and battery, recently died. He had been arrested, but not arraigned for plea. The entry reads: "This case is venued to the court of glory by the angel of death, where God is the judge."

Confronted With a Shotgun.

Flora, Ind., Feb. 8.—When Deputy Sheriff Charles Beall and ex-Sheriff Joseph Barnard attempted to remove the family of Mrs. Harrison from a house they were confronted with a shotgun in the hands of Mrs. Harrison, who defied them to touch the furniture. The officers made long tracks to safety and have not returned.

Philadelphia, Feb. 8.—The state supreme court confirmed the finding of the Montgomery county court condemning Charles O. Kaiser for the murder of his wife at Norristown, Oct. 28, 1896.

MAN DID NOT APPEAR.

That Is Why Miss Emmal Did Not Get Married.

HER FATHER TOOK HER HOME

She Went to Cincinnati to Meet Her Alleged Lover, but For Some Reason He Failed to Put in an Appearance.

Middlesboro, Ky., Feb. 8.—Miss Kate Emmal of this city, who was reported missing, returned here from Cincinnati in the company of her father.

She left here Thursday morning with the intention of getting married to J. P. Johnson, a traveling salesman. She had kept the matter a secret from her parents, and, as she desired to get her trunk and wardrobe from them, she wrote them from Cincinnati stating that she had been married, and requested her trunk to be forwarded.

Her father left for Cincinnati that night, taking the trunk as requested, but upon investigation he found that the marriage had not taken place, and that the man in the case had not put in an appearance.

The whole affair seems to be a piece of destroyed romance, and as Miss Emmal was closely watched by friends in Cincinnati and at other points, she could not have been the victim of any scoundrel's foul machinations.

Charged With Contempt.

Independence, Ky., Feb. 8.—Seven members of the Covington (Ky.) council, the city clerk and the attorney, Henry Hallam, were held to be in contempt of court by Judge Tarvin and were placed in the custody of the sheriff, with the alternative of purging themselves of contempt or being committed to jail. The trouble arose from the refusal of council, on the advice of their attorney, to obey an order by the judge to provide necessary furniture for the courthouse in Covington. Under the law, while Independence is the county seat, the court is held in Covington for general convenience. Upon the failure of council to obey the order the judge ordered the removal of the records to this little village and cited the members to appear to answer the charge of contempt.

Mail Robber Seen.

Prestonburg, Ky., Feb. 8.—Morgan Turner, the mail robber and forger, who recently escaped jail, was seen a few days ago on Beaver creek, near his home. News came here that he had been to Gladenville, Va., and had forged a check for $200. There is $500 reward for Turner for the forgeries and tampering with the mails while postmaster at Fed, this county.

Female Skater Drowned.

Earlington, Ky., Feb. 8.—A delightful skating season ended tragically in the drowning of Miss Stella Hanna, 17, in the pond at Hecla mines, near her home in Madisonville. She was the daughter of M. Hanna, proprietor of the Madisonville machine works, former master mechanic of the Hecla Coal company. A loosened skate caused the accident.

Work of Kentucky Legislature.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 8.—Up to this time not a single bill, important or otherwise, has passed both houses of the Kentucky legislature, and none has reached the governor. Four or five hundred, though, have been introduced.

Trial of Nevill.

London, Feb. 8.—The recorder, Sir Charles Hall, addressing the grand jury in the case of Lord William Nevill, fourth son of the Marquis of Abergavenny, who was committed for trial on Jan. 31, charged with fraud in connection with the suit of Sam Lewis against Lieutenant Spencer Clay of the Second Lifeguards, to recover £11,113 due on two promissory notes cashed for the prisoner, said the evidence "appeared to establish a prima facie case of forgery" and it would be their duty to find a true bill against Nevill. Eventually the trial of Lord William Nevill was set down for Wednesday next.

Nonunion Riveters at Work.

Bay City, Mich., Feb. 8.—Wheeler & Company's shipyard, which had been shut down for two weeks on account of a strike of riveters, resumed operations. A few nonunion riveters were put to work. The striking riveters will stay out until at least after a meeting of the state court of mediation.

For Deep Waterways.

New York, Feb. 8.—The secretary of war invites the attention of congress to the desirability of continuing the work now in progress for deep waterways during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1899, as no estimate for this work was included in the estimates submitted heretofore.

A MEDICAL CRISIS AT FRANKFORT.

It is proposed by the Secretary of the State Board of Health, or by the board which he represents, to amend the law regulating medical practice in this commonwealth by an act requiring all practitioners of the healing craft, every variety of this useful species, to "show their qualifications" for medical practice, or to abandon at once all pretensions to practice the medical art in this State.

The object of this amendment is laudable enough if its provisions can be effectively carried out, assuming, of course, that the true purpose of the bill is to elevate the medical profession and protect the public health. If it be designed merely to protect the regular practitioner against irregular competition, that is quite another thing. The practitioner who requires this kind of protection in the pursuit of his vocation, can hardly be regarded as competent to practice. It is the very object of free institutions to open a career to talents, in the medical profession as in all others. Besides, protection does not always protect. A rascal and ignoramus, whether he hold a State certificate or not, is predestinated to a brief career in a society where character and intelligence carry weight. The educated laity are wiser than we think, and every quack whether fenced out, or fenced in, by statutory laws, is universally recognized as a charlatan by the indulgent public that laughs at his fakes and swallow his pills.

The only true and effectual method of regulating the conditions of medical practice in a State, is to require the maintenance of a high standard in the public service and in the medical schools. The general government perceives this necessity and acts upon it. Dr. Billings informs us that under the tests for admission to the medical departments of the army and navy since the war, from 70 to 80 per cent. of the candidates are rejected,—a statement which indicates the existence of a disreputably low standard in the medical schools by which these candidates have been trained. If legislation, therefore, be in order it must be first applied to the schools, since these are practically the fountain head of all our medical ills. It has been said that by keeping a superior type, or class of professional men, (lawyers or doctors), before the public, a model will be furnished by which the profession at large may insensibly be moulded, and its comparative merits properly gauged. The superior character of our national medical service is already acknowledged at home and abroad. Impress a similar stamp of superiority upon the products of our medical schools, and the effect will soon be manifest in an improved status of the profession at large. An inevitable public recognition of this superiority will render easy and effective the legislation we desire.

But before the result can be attained, the laity must be thoroughly satisfied that the proposed legislation is really designed to protect the public against the evils of vicious and mercenary medical practice; that in spite of the conflicting dogmas of the sects, medicine is really a science and an art; that where "allopathy," and "homeopathy" and "eclectic" meet under statutory laws upon a medical board, they are really acting in a public capacity for the attainment of common public good, and are not merely "pooling their issues" for the advancement of personal interests or the attainment of sordid professional ends. Until the laity, without regard to class or condition, are settled in this conviction, it is to be feared that existing laws will prove of little value and further legislation of little avail. The public is sharply discriminating in its estimates of men, and all statutory legislation should be so framed as to favor the evolution of the highest professional types, and to do this, too, without the adoption of arbitrary or equivocal methods, which being utterly un-republican and un-democratic, would ultimately defeat the object had in view.

We do not exaggerate the difficulties of this sort of legislation in the least. If it be difficult to suppress crime by statutory legislation, how much more difficult to suppress the evils of empiricism and to stay the ravages of epidemic disease! Statutory law unsupported by public opinion is powerless to restrain the one or to arrest the other. It is obvious, therefore, that a powerful and intelligent public sentiment is the indispensable condition of any effective legislation that the medical profession may suggest or demand; and that the first step in the education of the public is to elevate the standard in the medical schools by which our medical practitioners are trained. If we do this, the conditions of the public health are perfectly secured (as far as practicable at least), and what is scarcely less important, the body politic itself is rendered permanently proof against the inroads of disease from an unsuspected source.

The foregoing expression of views does not necessarily involve any reflection upon the legislation proposed at Frankfort, nor are those views suggested by any particular aspect of the medical situation in this State. They are simply opinions which we have entertained and expressed for many years; and, as the burning question of medical reform is now before the Legislature of the State, it is the duty and privilege of every thoughtful citizen to speak. All reformations, it is said, begin with the laity. If so, the laity should first inform themselves, and then instruct their representatives to act with dispassionate intelligence upon the matter in hand. Legislation upon the lines projected would not only be practicable, but eminently politic, judicious, economical, conservative and safe,—suggesting nothing to alarm our susceptible democratic instincts, or to authorize, in deference to certain inawkish sentiments of "paternalism," the establishment in a free Commonwealth of a meddling, capricious and arbitrary medical regime.

POSTMASTER MATHEWS.

His Appointment Sent to the Senate Monday.
Some Other Kentucky "Plums"
Handed Out.

WASHINGTON, D. C., February 7.—The Kentucky postmaster hunters bagged a good bit of game to-day, and they are feeling pretty happy over their luck.

The list of good plums which went to the Senate includes Editor Frank M. Fisher, of the Paducah Daily Sun, as postmaster in his town. This ends a hot fight, in which Deboe favored another, but Fisher was a loyal McKinley man and won. Mark Hanna took a hand for the Kentucky newspaper man.

This is the list of Kentucky places filled: Postmasters:

W. S. Boggess, Ashland.
James A. Deboe, Clinton.
Clarence Mathews, Maysville.
F. M. Fisher, Paducah.
S. S. Moore, Princeton.
L. F. Petty, Shelbyville.
Sherod Stanville, Williamsburg.
Fred Van Renssaler, Owensboro.

Telegrams Monday afternoon from Mr. Hugh Nesbitt, the Washington City correspondent of several journals, brought Mr. Mathews and his friends the glad news of his appointment, and Maysville's next postmaster has since then been receiving congratulations.

Postmaster Chenoweth's term expires February 15th, and Mr. Mathews may enter upon his duties at that time, although that question has not been definitely settled yet. He may wait until the first of March.

W. E. NEWELL, fire and life insurance.

MARSHAL CHARLES DAWSON, of Manchester, arrested Cob Lacy and Bertha Hale at Portsmouth and returned them to Adams County. The girl is but fifteen and the stepdaughter of Lacy. The couple were living as man and wife at Portsmouth.

WE suffered greatly by Sunday's fire, and your loss will also be great if you purchase anything in granite, marble or freestone before you get our prices. We have nothing but new, clean stock now, fresh from quarries, and can be found across street from old stand in Zweigart Building, filling all orders on hand, according to contract, and ready to take more and give you better work for less money than ever before. More work is only sympathy we solicit.

Henry Presley; to move his house on Elizabeth street.

The petition of certain business men and milling firms of the Fifth ward to grant the C. and O. permit to lay a switch on what is known as the "Anderson lot" was refused, on the ground that such a permit could be granted only to a railroad corporation, and that the petition must come from the railroad company.

The Neptune and Amazon fire companies were exonerated from the payment of license for dance halls.

The ordinance providing for the election of a Street Commissioner, defining his duties and fixing his compensation was taken up and passed. The salary was fixed at $40 a month. He is to be chosen by Council at its February meeting and serve for one year. The Committee on Internal Improvements was authorized to employ some one until the March meeting of Council.

John D. Roe was made the usual annual donation of $50 for faithful services as night watchman or special policeman.

Dr. Smith brought up the subject of the licensing of real estate agents, and stated that only two agents in the city had paid. He thought there were others who ought to pay, and the question was referred to the Committee on Laws and Ordinances to report next month.

The question of putting an electric light at corner of Huston avenue and Second streets was referred to the Committee on Gas with power to act.

Mr. Heiser stated there ought to be some ordinance regulating the storing of loose hay or straw in livery stables. He thought it ought to be prohibited entirely, and that stables should be permitted to store only baled hay or straw. The matter was referred to the Committee on Laws.

RAIDERS IN BRACKEN.

The Turnpike Wreckers Again at Work in Our Sister County.

AUGUSTA, Ky., Feb. 6.—This community was invaded last night by a squad of some thirty tollgate raiders. They wore masks and were heavily armed. About 9 o'clock they came down the Dutch Ridge pike and stopped at the gate kept by John Maas. Upon the approach of the gang to the gate house the aged and crippled keeper went out to see what they wanted, and with profane language the Captain of the gang ordered him to turn the light out, which the keeper hastily did. The commander then ordered his axman to proceed to cut down the gate, which was accomplished by a few vigorous strokes from the ax in the hands of a stalwart woodsman. After cutting down the gate the leader of the men told Mr. Maas that as this was their second visit in a few weeks' time they would give him fair warning that if any more toll was collected at that gate they would not leave even kindling wood of the house and premises on their next visit.

With an accuracy that showed drilling and perfect organization the commander lined his men up two abreast and at the word they rode at a furious speed through Fourth street in this city and went to the gate on the Brooksville pike, kept by Andrew Landerback. Here they also cut down the gate and gave the keeper warning not to collect any more toll under penalty of having the house blown up. The raiders, after destroying this gate, rode up the pike a short distance and alarmed the entire community by firing volley after volley from their guns. They then departed in the direction of Brooksville.

One thing is demonstrated by last night's violence, and that is the fact that raiders in this county are thoroughly organized, and that if the Fiscal Court and the turnpike owners do not soon come to an agreement and free the pike, bloodshed is bound to follow. This is the second time within a week the above named gates have been destroyed, and the keepers are preparing to move if the gates are replaced, as they do not wish to endanger the lives of themselves and families by remaining in their perilous positions. There is no doubt that if guards are placed at the gates there will be trouble.

A. C. LATMAN and Miss Emma Glenn, both of this county, were married at Manchester a few days ago.

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gunderson, of Dimondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist Church at Rives Junction she was brought down with Pneumonia succeeding La Grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results." Trial bottles free at J. James Wood's drug store. Regular size 50c and $1.

A Great Book Free!

When Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., published the first edition of his great work, The Common Sense Medical Adviser, he announced that after 600,000 copies had been sold at the regular price, $1.50 per copy, the profit on which would repay him for the great amount of labor and money expended in producing it, he would distribute the next half million free. As this number of copies has already been sold, he is now giving away, absolutely free, 500,000 copies of this most complete, interesting and valuable common sense medical work ever published—the recipient only being required to mail to him, at above address, twenty-one (21) one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only, and the book will be sent post-paid. It is a veritable medical library, complete in one volume. Contains 1008 pages, profusely illustrated. The Free Edition is precisely the same as that sold at $1.50 except only that the books are in strong manilla paper covers instead of cloth. Send now before all are given away.

ANOTHER FIRE.

A Small Blaze at the Y. M. C. A. Rooms Monday Afternoon—Damage About $150.

Fire was discovered Monday afternoon between 2 and 3 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A. rooms on third floor of the Zwelgart Building. It had started in a closet on the third floor used for storing kindling, and fortunately was discovered before it had gained much headway. Messrs. Joseph Easton, Bruce Easton and Frank Purnell were on the second floor when the alarm was given, and extinguished the flames with a few buckets of water obtained from the bath rooms adjoining the closet.

Their prompt work prevented any damage on the second floor from the water; as a stream from the hose would have soon flooded the parlor, reading room and game room and ruined the carpets and furniture.

The damage is placed at $150 and is covered by insurance.

The lockers in which the members keep their towels and gymnasium suits are just across the hall from the wood closet, and locker "13" was the only one damaged.

The only way the fire can be accounted for is that some young man threw the stub of a cigarette into the wood closet. Smoking is prohibited in the rooms, and the cigarette may have been hastily thrown into the closet by some one in order to avoid being detected.

The fire necessitates closing the gymnasium until further notice. The bath rooms, however, will be open as usual.

The Frankfort correspondent of the Louisville Dispatch says that within the next few days a decided political surprise will come in the shape of the announcement for Governor of a gentleman who has not been mentioned in connection with the gubernatorial honors.

Mrs. Lucy Smith, colored, widow of the late William Smith, died Sunday evening at her home on Poplar street. Previous to her marriage she was a nurse in the family of Mr. Oscar Finley, cashier of the Citizens' National Bank of Louisville. Mrs. Finley and three children were visiting in the East, and were caught in a wreck on the Old Colony Railway. Mrs. Finley and two children lost their lives, the third being saved by Lucy, who was herself terribly burned in so doing. The railroad company gave her $9,000 in settlement.

The new church being erected at Owensboro, by the Third Baptist Church, the Rev. Fred D. Hale pastor, has cost about $25,000 to date, and will cost in the neighborhood of $35,000 when furnished, etc. It is built of pressed brick and stone, and has an auditorium with a seating capacity of 2,500 and a total capacity of about 3,500, including all interior floor room. The church was organized about a year ago by Rev. Fred Hale with several hundred members who left the First Church, and has taken in 383 members during the year.

NEW RAILROAD.

[Cincinnati Commercial-Tribune.]

It is rumored on good authority that a number of local business men, backed by English capital, are interested in the construction of a new line of railroad from Cincinnati to Portsmouth, O.

The plan at present is to run a branch road from Ripley to Columbus, by way of Sardinia, with a bridge across the Ohio river at Maysville, Ky., to connect with the L. and N. system.

The proposed road will be built above the highest flood mark, and will probably enter Cincinnati over an elevated track, with a depot of its own within not more than five blocks of Fountain Square.

It is understood that the position of General Manager and Chief Engineer has been offered to a prominent Cincinnati civil engineer, and he will probably accept the position.

COMMITTEE'S APPEAL.

Maysville Property Owners Asked to Aid Washington Fire Company—Subscriptions to Date.

The following is self-explanatory:

To the Property Holders and Citizens of Maysville: On Sunday morning, January 30th, the Washington Fire Company lost by fire their home together with the opera house upon which they depended for their support and upon which our citizens depended for an amusement hall. In the destruction of the building there went up in smoke and flame the hard earnings of the company, covering a period of forty-eight years and amounting to over $12,000. They are now without shelter and without a single dollar—nothing left save their honor. The firemen of our city have always been faithful to duty in saving your property, and upon many occasions have saved our city from total destruction. It is now proposed, and due them, to rebuild their home, and for this purpose a subscription has been started and a liberal amount secured. Will you be one to assist in this effort by a subscription? Respectfully,

THOMAS A. DAVIS,
ALEX. CALHOUN,
J. D. DYE,
WM. H. COX.

Every property owner in the city is directly interested in this matter, and a liberal response to this appeal will enable the company to begin the work of rebuilding as soon as spring opens.

If you have not subscribed and desire to do so, send your name either to the BULLETIN or to any of the above committee, stating amount.
